RESULTS OF CARNIVAL QUEEN CONTEST.

Miss Goldie Barnes is again in the lead in the Queen contest, being 53 votes ahead of Miss Lyle Watson, her nearest competitor. Marie McMillan, whom everybody thought would remain at the head of the list, has dropped to fourth place. There is little change in the standing of the other contestants, but all of them have gained votes.

Work will probably start on the royal booth tomorrow, and by the end of the week it will be finished and ready for the grand coronation ceremonies that take place next Monday, the opening day.

Every public spirited resident certainly should get busy and take an active interest in the Queen contest from now on. The committee has devoted a great deal of their time, in the endeavor to make this contest a success, and the public surely should show their appreciation, individually, by casting a few votes for one of the young ladies entered.

Below is the result up to noon today:

|                      |     |
|----------------------|-----|
| Miss Goldie Barnes   | 1-5 |
| Miss Lyle Watson     | 4-3 |
| Miss Louise Sargent  | 3-4 |
| Miss Marie McMillan  | 3-2 |
| Miss Lillian Stilts  | 2-2 |
| Miss Mills           | 2-2 |
| Miss Stella Campbell | 2-4 |
| Miss Louise Lee      | 1-5 |
| Miss Eliza Stilts    | 7-0 |

Miss Alice G. Bradley, of Edwardsville, Mo., has been granted a patent for an improved sewing machine needle, which may be threaded in the dark without looking at it. The appliance consists of a cleft leading to the needle's eye, the resilient tongue being locked at the upper end by a clamp, making the needle, when the thread is adjusted, apparently solid. The thread is put in place merely by rubbing it against the side of the needle. 5
